Hi I am a long time collector of JM and I can without doubt tell you that your bar is a clad bar purchased through Aliba and definetly not gold but gold plated. By saying that you are not sure of the content you are not absolving yourself from that reality. One does not present two different points of view unless one is trying to obfuscate. Please remove from eBay. Or go to any gold silver place or LCS they will clear up what you claim not to be sure of.

I will give it 12 hours and if not removed not only report to eBay but also share with our group that polices eBay for these fake bars. They will pick up and carry the ball further.

Hope you have the moral fortitude and decency to check what you are selling and do the right thing.

Cheers
