

THE SILVER BULLET IN

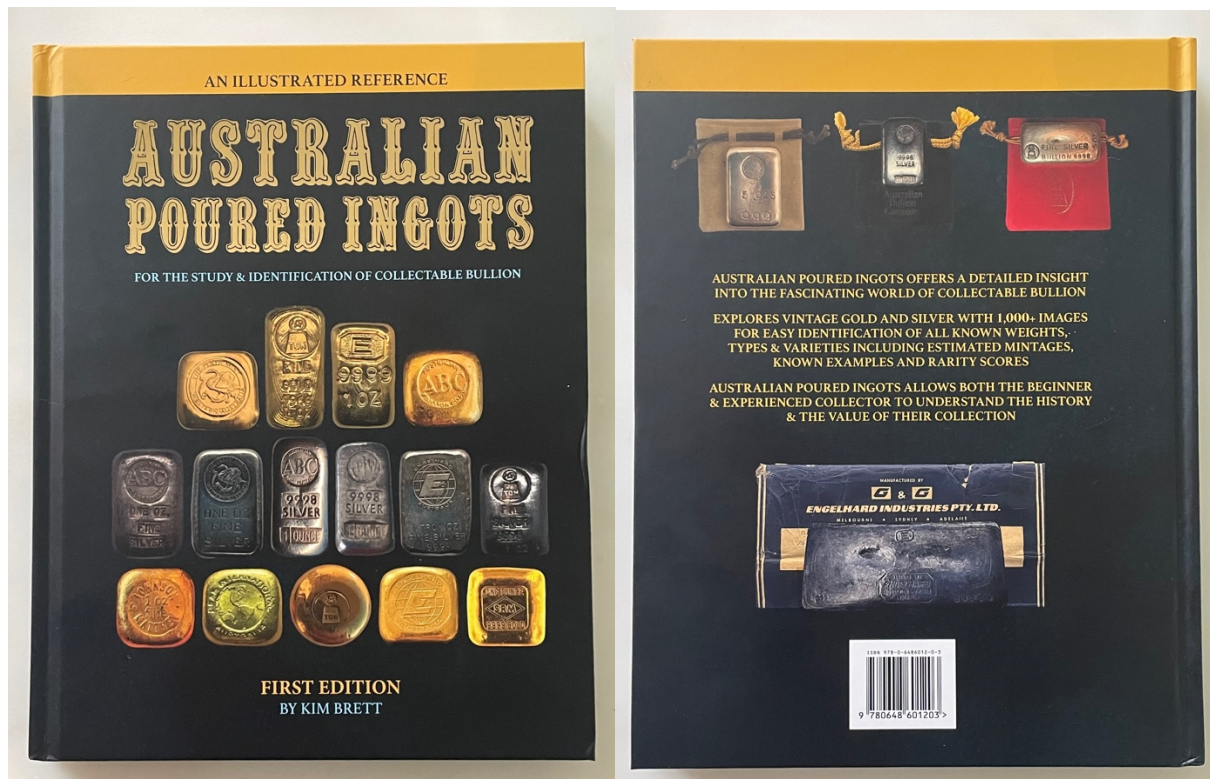

By AGWire™

Lately there has not been a dull moment in our collectible bullion world, or for that matter, the world in general. Between wars and protests and collapsed bridges and floods and political insanity, it's nice to seek refuge in our favorite world that so feels like home for all of us. And all eyes currently seem to be on silver and gold, as the collectible market grows furiously and we continue to see new price thresholds on both rare and common varieties of vintage ingots. Below are just a few of the recent high dollar public auction sales from MINERAL EXCHANGE and eBay that are most notable:

And we can't go without mention of a new and beautiful contribution to our bullion world – a newly published hardcover book titled AUSTRALIAN Poured INGOTS by fellow collector Mr. Kim Brett. Over 200 pages of vintage Australian Bullion and refinery history, pages filled with gorgeous color photos of some of the most coveted ingots from the Land Down Under. This book is well organized and narrated and supplemented in great detail, and is an absolute MUST HAVE for every collector. We understand the First Edition is now sold out, but due to popular demand a final printing is on the way and orders are currently being taken by fellow collector Mr. Tim Zubrod. So please contact Tim via email at Zubie99@aol.com or Kim through FB Messenger to reserve your copy today, and sit tight with your Vegemite, and we promise you won't be disappointed!

We are so fortunate to have such a diverse, knowledgeable, passionate and friendly association of collectors within our vast and growing community. We truly cannot think of a more fascinating hobby to be a part of, and every day we are grateful for our association with you all.

It's a crazy world we live in. Be Safe, be Kind to others, Enjoy what you're doing, and for God's sake... Keep Stacking!

Argently,
AE
